Dear Kym

Thank you very much for the presentation that you did at our distributor conference. Most of the people on the day came with a great deal of knowledge and have run their business successfully for many years. So your task I believed was not going to be an easy one. How wrong could I have been. Without exception you commanded their attention from the outset and the feedback I have since received has been positive. We at Sunday are looking forward to working with you.

All the very best.

Gary
